

D.C. BENNY

My name is D.C. Benny, and over the last 12 years I have performed at hundreds of colleges from Fort Lauderdale to Binghamton. I have made students laugh in theatres, cafeterias, ratskellars, brickskellars, skellar-skellars, in student lounges, dorm lounges, and once even in an emptied out swimming pool. I've hosted a talent show where a student lit his fart on fire and got a standing ovation. I've performed in front of thousands and then in front of 5 kids passed out after a Red-Bull all night study-athon. I've performed at places like Georgetown University and then flown to places with really scary names like Beaver college. I've performed in front of crowds that spoke no English, had a sign-language interpreter sign my act to hearing impaired kids who sign-heckled me, and gone to college towns where the entire population had three teeth and everything closed at 7 pm. I have opened for Jeff Foxworthy, Margaret Cho, Bernie Mac, and a ton of others. I just got off Comedy Centrals U.S.O. tour for the troops and have been on over 35 t.v. shows and commercials. You may remember me as the main Budwieser "How You Doin'?" guy. I am prompt, professional, and funny as hell, and I look forward to making you laugh.
